

Recommended Division Assignments for Classic Racing under CRF

Produced by the CYOA Technical Committee

The CYOA Technical Committee has released 2020 Classic Yacht Racing Guidelines, a document that provides recommendations to Organizing Authorities (OA's) planning to conduct races under the CRF rating rule. Part 2 of these recommendations states that “Yachts shall be assigned to divisions based on their original design date when they have been equipped and built with methods and materials consistent with that original design or that are appropriate for their division. Variations from original equipment, materials and methods may be accepted at the discretion of the OA, and may also be addressed via CRF rating formulae and factors.”

Section 2.2 of these recommendations goes on to state that “Yachts shall be grouped into divisions based on the following guidelines,” and describes these divisions as follows:

Vintage: Yachts designed before January 1, 1950 and built, maintained, and restored with materials and methods consistent with the original design.

Classic: Yachts designed on or after January 1, 1950 whose rudders are attached to the trailing edge of the keel with at least one pivot point on the sternpost, and that are rated by CRF with Keel Type 5 or Type 6.

Modern Classic: Yachts designed on or after January 1, 1950 and typically before January 1, 1975, whose rudders are separated from the trailing edge of the keel and that are rated by CRF as Keel Type 3 or Type 4.

Spirit of Tradition: Yachts typically designed on or after January 1, 1975 whose rudders are separated from the trailing edge of the keel and that are rated by CRF as Keel Type 1,2,3,or 4, and whose design embodies an appreciation of classic yacht or traditional workboat shapes and aesthetics. There are no restrictions on rigging, equipment, or construction materials and methods for Spirit of Tradition (SoT) yachts.

The Technical Committee has carefully reviewed the characteristics of all of the yachts that had been issued CRF certificates, and using these definitions as guidelines, has assigned each yacht to the division that they found most appropriate. Recognizing that individual OA's may have their own criteria for making division and class assignments, and that they do so at their sole discretion, the Technical Committee offers the following division assignment list as a resource that may be helpful to OA's in making those choices. All yachts receive a CYOA Division assignment when applying for a certificate. The division designation is listed on the CRF certificate. Note that yachts not listed in the following, but that do have 2020 certificates, will be added to this master list as time permits.

Some (but not all) OA's have construction material requirements for their entries. Yachts holding valid CRF certificates that are constructed of fiberglass have a 'G' suffix added to their division code, and may be scored in the same class as wooden boats (as in the case of wooden and fiberglass IOD's) at the discretion on the OA.

Note that there are yachts with valid CRF certificates that were not found to have an appropriate fit within any of the above divisions. These yachts are identified as 'Other', with an 'O' designation. Their entries may be accepted by OA's and assigned to classes that suit their event, at their sole discretion.

On the following list, the division assignments are indicated as follows: V= Vintage, C= Classic, MC= Modern Classic, and SoT= Spirit of Tradition. Within this framework, yachts with gaff headed mains and/or schooner rigs are identified with the following subdivision designations: G&S V, G&S C G&S MC, G&S SoT, and G&S C (catboats).

It is important to note that most of the assignment choices made by participating Technical Committee members have been unanimous, and that most of the few that were not showed a clear consensus, if not unanimity. The handful of unusually difficult choices that elicited more variety in opinion have been decided via simple majority, and are highlighted 'M'.

On the following list, the division assignments are indicated as follows: V= Vintage, C= Classic, MC= Modern Classic, and SoT= Spirit of Tradition. Within this framework, yachts with gaff headed mains and/or schooner rigs are identified with the following subdivision designations: G&S V, G&S C G&S MC, G&S SoT, and G&S C (catboats).

It is important to note that most of the assignment choices made by participating Technical Committee members have been unanimous, and that most of the few that were not showed a clear consensus, if not unanimity. The handful of unusually difficult choices that elicited more variety in opinion have been decided via simple majority, and are highlighted 'M'.
